

Bank branch moving with Mexican market

When El Rey Nana's Market Mexican grocery store moves into a new facility this spring, the full-service branch of North Shore Bank will move with it. The branch, which was the first bank office inside a Latino supermarket in Milwaukee when it opened in 2004, will have space in the new El Rey building at 1320 W. Burnham St., said Stephen J. Steiner, North Shore's senior vice president for retail banking. The branch will have a walk-up automated teller machine and a community room that will be available for seminars, financial counseling and neighborhood groups.
